Update your information

Do you have a new number? Did you move to a new place? Let us know. Parent contact information is a very important part of making our center a great program. When emergencies or non-emergencies happen having the correct phone numbers to contact families is essential. Make sure to update your emergency contact list also. If we are unable to contact you for any reason we will attempt to contact the people on the emergency list. Miigwech!

Boozhoo,

To all our families, we are excited to start the new year off with more words and commands in ojibwemowin!! We hope that you all enjoyed your holidays. If there is any suggestions please don’t hesitate to bring it forward on what you would like to learn. We will be learning about Biboon (Winter), Ice Fishing, and Clothes. Please remember to send your child with the proper clothes for this time of year. Please send them with extra shoes (for classroom only) snow pants, boots, gloves, hats, and Winter Jacket! We will be taking more walks by holding hands. Please remind your child of how safe it is to stay by an adult during the walk.

Thanks

WELCOME BACK

We hope everyone had a great holiday and are ready to get back into the swing of things. We will be focusing our lesson plans around dinosaurs/snow and clothes this month. We will be adding new Ojibwe words to our list. If you are interested in what we use in the classroom just ask and we can print out words for you to use at home. Rose and Reggie are available daily too.

The children are learning to take care of each other and beginning to understand we all need our own space.

- Snow
- Its snowing
- Cold
- Goon
- Zoogipon
- Gisinaa

When you give your child simple jobs, it helps him feel valued and more deeply connected to the family and community. This increases his confidence and sense of self-worth.

2016

Boozhoo. Welcome to the new year. 2016 promises to bring with it happiness and growth. Each of the kids has grown so much since September and we are excited to see where they will be by the end of the year.

For the month of January we are going to do a study of clothes. This is part of our Teaching Strategies Curriculum. We will have many different types of clothes in our dress up area. Please remember to label all of your children’s clothing so it does not get mixed up.

Please continue to send appropriate gear for outside. A little reminder that stretchy, finger gloves are not very warm and our supply of winter gloves at school is very small. Please help us make sure your child is safe and warm when outside. We will be leaving snow pants and gloves at school. It gets difficult shoving wet snow pants and gloves in backpacks everyday.

If you would like your child’s stuff sent back and forth daily please call us. If they do go home daily please remember to take them out of the backpack and dry them. It is no fun wearing wet snow pants and gloves outside.

Thanks for your understanding.

Ms. Jamie and Ms. J
Boozhoo All!

We've been busy working on many different projects this month, and learning many different social/emotional skills including problem solving and turn taking. We have to send a friendly reminder to all parents and families that our school day starts at 8am to 2pm please communicate when your child or children when they will be absent.

We also are learning about counting, recognizing letters and numbers, shapes, ojibwe words and phrases, patterns, colors, self help skills and writing our first and last names, and working together. We want to say Miigwech to ALL the PARENTS that met with us for the parent teacher conferences, and all cooperation and understanding with us.

Keep sending your children to school daily, and remember there is always an OPEN invite to visit our classroom and check out what the kids are doing in their daily routine.

Hope you all have a safe, warm holiday break and a very wonderful new year!! We look forward to seeing you all soon and enjoy the winter break.

Miigwech, Miss Patsy, Miss Alicia
MIGIZI NEWS

Happy New Year!!

Glad to see we finally got some snow, the children really had fun playing in it today! The children had a good day and it seemed like everyone was glad to get back into the routine of things.

Our studies for the month will be about warm clothing, winter, ice fishing. Along with those we will start our personal touch part to "Talking About Touching" curriculum. We will learn about "Safe and Unsafe" touches. We will focus on "Mat Man", what happens now and then what will happen. The children are working hard on learning how to write their names and to identify the letters in their names. This is a good project to do with your child, they are proud of their accomplishments.

Remember we're studying about clothes and winter we have five things to put on every time we go outside.

1. Snow pants
2. Boots
3. Coat
4. Hat
5. Mittens/gloves

They cannot go outside till they each have all five things on

Additionally, the program strives to increase leadership skills in tribal youth, foster Intergenerational learning opportunities between tribal elders and tribal youth, and focus on passing traditional Anishinaabe winter activity knowledge from generation to generation.

This year’s Ishpaagoonikaa program will be held in Cloquet, Minnesota, on February 5-7, 2016 where GLIFWC’s Law Enforcement Division will partner with the Fond du Lac Tribal College Extension’s 13 Moons Program. Tribal youth will interact with elders and GLIFWC Law Enforcement officers in activities such as snow snake construction and play, storytelling, small game trapping, brain tanning, animal and track identification, winter shelter building, Ishkide (fire) making, outdoor survival tactics, and Native Skywatchers.

Participants will be spending 2 nights in their tents at the Headstart Gym.

The program will start on Friday at 6 pm CST and conclude Sunday at 1:30 pm.

Best Bites

Loose tooth?
Eating can be tricky when your child has loose or missing teeth. Cut harder fruits (apples, melon) into small pieces, or offer softer fruits like bananas, strawberries, and canned mandarin oranges (packed in juice). Make sandwiches with soft whole-grain bread rather than rolls, and try creamy fillings like tuna salad. Scrambled eggs and pasta are good bets, too.

A new activity
Encourage physical activity by trying something new with your youngster. Start by brainstorming ideas, perhaps kayaking, ice skating, ultimate Frisbee, and paddleboarding. Have her help you research each one to find out where you could take classes, join leagues, or play—and what’s involved in cost and time. Decide on the best fit, and get moving!

Did you know?
Vitamin C helps your child’s body absorb more iron. So along with iron-rich foods like red meat, fortified cereals, and spinach, he should have vitamin C-rich foods like oranges, tomatoes, kiwi, broccoli, and potatoes. Cooking in a cast-iron pan can enrich food with iron, too. Note: Children ages 4–8 need 10 mg of iron a day, and those 9–13 need 8 mg.

Just for fun
Q: Why are the presidents on Mount Rushmore so well rested?
A: They sleep like rocks!

Help! I’ve got a picky eater

Just because your youngster is a picky eater now doesn’t mean she’ll always be one. Try stress-free strategies like these to help her turn into a more adventurous—and healthier—eater.

Have one bite
Start a “take one bite” policy. Your child takes one bite of any food served, and you won’t press her to eat more if she doesn’t want to. This will expose her to new foods, a little at a time, but not lead to power struggles. Tell her it’s okay not to like something—but she needs to try it to decide if she likes it or not.

One meal for all
Let your youngster know that what you serve for dinner is what’s for dinner. It’s her choice whether to eat it, but you’re not going to make something different for her. To increase the chances that she’ll eat, limit snacks before dinner so she’ll be hungry. And try to serve at least one thing you know she likes.

Positive peer pressure
Some of her friends, or perhaps cousins or neighbors, are likely to be “better” eaters. Invite one for dinner, and have her sit next to your child. Watching them eat salad, vegetables, or fish may entice her to do the same. Also, remember that you’re her role model, too. If she sees you eating different foods, she might be inclined to try them.

Part of the action
One of the best ways to get a picky eater to try more foods is to involve her in preparing meals. If she has helped plan a menu, shopped for food, or chopped and cooked, she’s likely to want to enjoy the fruits of her labor!

Healthier fund-raisers

When your child’s school, sports team, or club needs to raise money, consider swapping candy or bake sales for something that sends a healthier message. Here are ideas:

• Sponsor a fun run or a 5K race. Or have an active “thon” like a walk-a-thon, bowl-a-thon, bike-a-thon, dance-a-thon, skate-a-thon, or hula hoop-a-thon.
• Sell healthy foods, such as oranges and grapefruit from citrus growers.
• Hold a car wash—as kids scrub and move about, they’ll get physical activity.
• Ask families to submit healthy recipes, and compile them into a cookbook to sell.
• Get children involved in gardening by having seed, plant, or mulch sales.

How to save on grocery bills

It's not easy to feed a family when you're on a budget. Use these suggestions to get the biggest bang for your buck.

Begin "couponing." Clipping coupons takes time, but that time will pay off when you check out. Make your child the "Coupon King." He could help file coupons from grocery circulars, newspapers, or websites—and be in charge of remembering to take along and use the coupons. Healthy tip: Don't gather coupons for junk foods. That way, you won't be tempted to "save money" by buying them.

"As seen on TV"

My son was always asking for candy or other unhealthy foods he saw on television or online. When I mentioned this to our pediatrician, Dr. Dawson suggested that I ask Aidan if he knew who produced food ads or what they're designed to do.

Together, Aidan and I looked up answers. He was surprised to find out about tricks that advertisers use to make products look better in ads, such as putting dish soap in soda to make bigger bubbles or painting hamburgers with shoe polish to give them more color.

We also learned about "product placements"—how companies pay to put their foods into online games, on television shows, or in movies. Now, when Aidan wants to try a new game, I'll ask, "Is that a game or an ad?" We've had interesting conversations, and I'm hoping he's getting a better understanding of advertising and how to make healthy choices for himself.

In the Kitchen

Toast toppings

Toast a slice of bread—whole grain, please—and dress it up for a healthy snack or meal that's fun for your child to make and eat.

1. Sunrise, sunset. Cover toast with cream cheese. Your youngster could use pineapple rings and orange slices to create a beautiful sunrise or sunset.

2. Beary good. Spread toast with a thin layer of peanut (or other nut) butter. Have your child make it into a bear's face, with banana slices for the ears and nose, and raisins for the eyes and mouth.

3. Shape filler. Let your youngster draw a shape on aluminum foil, cut it out, and place it on the toast. Spread skim ricotta cheese all around the shape, and sprinkle with ½ tsp. dried oregano. She can lift off the foil and fill the empty shape with chopped bell peppers.

Comparison shop. Notice the prices from store to store for the items you buy regularly—you might be surprised at the differences. Then, keep a list (on paper or in your phone) of the best buys for each, and shop accordingly. Plus, if you know the price ranges for your most popular items, you can see when they hit a low point—and stock up.

Be produce-savvy. Cut-up fruit and vegetables are certainly convenient, but you pay for that convenience. Instead, buy items whole, and get your kids to help you rinse and prepare them. Another plus: Produce will last longer if it hasn't been cut yet. Also, buy produce in season when it's cheaper, and get extra to freeze. Here's a handy guide: healthymeals.nal.usda.gov/feas-rres-month/whats-season.
save more at the grocery store

10 MyPlate tips to stretch your food dollar

Using coupons and looking for the best price are great ways to save money at the grocery store. Knowing how to find them is the first step to cutting costs on food. Use the MyPlate coupon tips to stretch your budget.

1. find deals right under your nose
   Look for coupons with your receipt, as peel-offs on items, and on signs along aisle shelves.

2. search for coupons
   Many stores still send ads and coupons for promotion, so don't overlook that so-called "junk mail." You can also do a Web search for "coupons." Go through your coupons at least once a month and toss out any expired ones.

3. look for savings in newspaper
   Brand name coupons are found as inserts in the paper every Sunday—except on holiday weekends. Some stores will double the value of brand name coupons on certain days.

4. join your store's loyalty program
   Signup is usually free and you can receive savings and electronic coupons when you provide your email address.

5. buy when foods are on sale
   Maximize your savings by using coupons on sale items. You may find huge deals such as "buy one get one free."

6. find out if the store will match competitors' coupons
   Many stores will accept coupons, as long as they are for the same item. Check with the customer service desk for further details.

7. stay organized so coupons are easy to find
   Sort your coupons either by item or in alphabetical order. Develop a system that's easiest for you and make finding coupons quick and hassle-free. Ideas for coupon storage include 3-ring binders, accordion-style organizers, or plain envelopes.

8. find a coupon buddy
   Swap coupons you won't use with a friend. You can get rid of clutter and discover additional discounts.

9. compare brands
   Store brands can be less expensive than some of the name brand foods. Compare the items to find better prices.

10. stick to the list
    Make a shopping list for all the items you need. Keep a running list on your phone, on the refrigerator, or in a wallet. When you're in the store, do your best to buy only the items on your list.

Cold weather offers great ways to have family fun. Take time to play together-and move more. You will all feel good! Children need at least 60 minutes of physical activity on most, preferably all, days of the week. So don’t hibernate like the bears—go play outside!
What is mental health?

Mental health means that young children are growing in their ability to:
• understand and share feelings
• have close and positive relationships
• explore and learn

Why Is it Important?

Having Positive Mental Health Makes It Easier for Children to:
• Have close relationships with family and friends
• Do well in school
• Learn new things
• Solve tough problems

• Develop patience (or not give up)
• Focus on a task
• Ask for help

When Young Children Are Worried, Sad, or Angry, It Can Be Hard To:
• Make friends
• Follow directions
• Express feelings or wishes
• Follow simple directions
• Pay attention in class
• Solve problems in positive ways
• Do well in school

Things You Can Do and Say to Help Your Child

○ For Your Infant

• Hold your baby during feedings.
  “I love cuddling when I feed you.”
• Look at your baby and smile, smile, smile!
  “Hey, when I smile, you smile back.”
• Talk about what you are doing.
  “I’m going to change your diaper now.”
• Try to relax and have fun.
  “When I am happy, you are less fussy.”
• Read and sing to your baby every day.
  “It is bedtime. Time for a story and favorite song.”
• Take care of yourself.
  “When I am rested, I take better care of you.”

○ For Your Toddler/Preschooler

• Make sure they always feel safe.
  “I know loud noises can be scary, but it’s OK.”
• Offer choices.
  “Do you want the blue shirt or the red shirt?”
• Practice patience.
  “Let’s wait until the song is over and then we’ll go outside.”
• Show understanding.
  “You REALLY want another cookie! It is hard when you can only have one.”
• Leave extra time.
  “I see you don’t want to leave the playground. One more time on the slide, then we need to leave.”
• Play together at least 15 minutes a day.
  “There is so much to do but it is important for us to play together.”
• Follow her interest.
  “I see you want to play with the blocks. What are you going to build?”
• Praise your child when she keeps trying.
  “I love the way you keep trying to find the right piece for the puzzle.”
• Practice following directions.
  “First pick up the blocks, then take out the cars.”
SMART CHOICES FOR FEEDING TODDLERS

Why Is This Important?

- Many parents worry they are not feeding their toddler enough. But serving sizes for toddlers are smaller than serving sizes for adults and each child is different. Your role is to provide healthy choices for your toddler and let them decide how much they want to eat.
- Establishing healthy meal routines is an important step in healthy toddler development. Ideally, mealtimes should take place at regular times, at a table with limited distraction, and children should be encouraged to feed themselves with adult support as needed.

Nutritional Information

- Serving sizes for toddlers are much smaller than serving sizes for adults. A serving of veggies is about ¼ cup.
- A typical serving size for a toddler drink is 4-6 ounces.
- Your toddler (and you too!) needs food from all five of the food groups—grains, protein, vegetables, fruit, and dairy. Try offering a variety of foods from these groups at meal and snacks.

Mealtimes

- Your toddler may eat more some days and less on others. Don’t worry, this is normal! Keep offering regularly scheduled meals and snacks.
- Allow your toddler to tell you when she is full. This teaches them to listen to their body for signs of hunger or fullness.
- Try using child-size plates, bowls, and utensils for "right-size" portions for your toddler. Using child-size utensils also makes it easier for your toddler to eat.
- Limit distractions during meal and snack times to allow your toddler to enjoy the food. Turn off the TV and sit at a table.

Snacking

- Toddlers get hungry between meals. Snack time is a great chance to feed your toddler healthy foods (like fruits and veggies).
- Remember to have a start and end time for snack time. Toddlers should not be snacking (or grazing) all day.
- Remember snack time does not have to mean junk food time. Snacks can be healthy and easy to prepare.

Beverage Choices

- What your toddler drinks is very important too! Water and milk are the best choices for toddlers. Children 1-2 years old should drink whole milk unless otherwise directed by their doctor and children over two should drink low-fat milk (Skim, 1% or 2%).
- Limit 100% juice to 1 time a day if at all and try to avoid other sugar sweetened beverages.
- Encourage toddlers to drink from cups and avoid use of bottles or sippy cups.
WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT SMOKING
Advice From Surgeon General’s Reports on Smoking and Health

QUITTING WILL SAVE LIVES AND IMPROVE HEALTH

Smoking remains the leading preventable cause of death and disease in the United States. Recent studies show that smokers who talk to a clinician about how to quit dramatically increase their chances of quitting successfully. Quitting smoking is the most important step you can take to improve your health. Your doctor can help you quit.

TIPS FOR QUITTING

If you are a smoker who wants to quit:
- Set a quit date, ideally within two weeks.
- Remove tobacco products from your home, car, and workplace.
- Resolve not to smoke at all—not even one puff.
- Avoid drinking while you’re quitting cigarettes. Drinking alcohol can trigger cravings for a cigarette.
- Anticipate challenges, such as nicotine withdrawal, particularly during the critical first few weeks.
- Ask others not to smoke around you. Allowing them to smoke around you can make it harder for you to quit.
- Identify reasons for quitting and benefits of quitting.

Medication and counseling help smokers quit:
- Physicians can recommend counseling or coaching in combination with over-the-counter nicotine patches, gum, or lozenges or with FDA-approved medications, unless there are other health concerns about those medications.
- Medication and counseling in combination result in much higher quit rates than medication alone.
- Counseling and coaching are available through community, employer, insurance, and hospital/medical practice cessation programs or through quitline services (1-800-QUIT-NOW).

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS FROM SURGEON GENERAL’S REPORTS ON SMOKING AND HEALTH

1. There is no safe level of exposure to tobacco smoke. Any exposure to tobacco smoke—even an occasional cigarette or exposure to secondhand smoke—is harmful.

2. Damage from tobacco smoke is immediate. Tobacco smoke contains more than 7,000 chemicals and chemical compounds that reach your lungs every time you inhale. Your blood then carries the poisons to all parts of your body. These poisons damage DNA, which can lead to cancer; damage blood vessels and cause clotting, which can cause heart attacks and strokes; and damage the lungs, which can cause asthma attacks, emphysema, and chronic bronchitis.

3. Smoking longer means more damage. Both the risk and the severity of many diseases caused by smoking are directly related to how long the smoker has smoked and the number of cigarettes smoked per day.

4. Cigarettes are designed for addiction. The design and contents of tobacco products make them more attractive and addictive than ever before. Nicotine addiction keeps people smoking even when they want to quit.

5. Even low levels of exposure, including exposure to secondhand tobacco smoke, are dangerous. You don’t have to be a heavy smoker or a long-time smoker to get a smoking-related disease or have a heart attack or stroke triggered by smoke.

6. There is no safe cigarette.

Resources to help smokers quit:
- Call 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669), the national access number to state-based quitline services.
HOW SMOKING HARMs YOUR HEALTH

HEART DISEASE
Smoking causes dangerous plaque buildup that can clog and narrow your arteries. Poisons from tobacco smoke also quickly damage blood vessels and make blood more likely to clot. This can block blood flow and lead to heart attack, stroke, or sudden death. Even exposure to secondhand smoke can trigger a heart attack or stroke in nonsmokers.

Quitting smoking will improve your heart health. After just one year, your risk for a heart attack drops sharply. Even if you've already had a heart attack, you cut your risk of having another one by a third to a half if you quit smoking. Two to five years after you quit, your risk for stroke falls to about the same as a nonsmoker’s.

DIABETES
Smoking is a cause of type 2 diabetes. If you have diabetes and smoke, your risk for kidney disease is two to three times higher than if you don’t smoke. Smokers with diabetes also have higher risk for heart disease; eye disease that can cause blindness; nerve damage that leads to numbness, pain, weakness, and poor circulation; and amputations.
Smokers who have diabetes also have more difficulty recovering from surgery.

After you quit smoking, you will have better control over your blood sugar levels. When you quit, you will be less likely to have heart or kidney disease, blindness, or amputations.

CANCER
Tobacco smoke contains toxic chemicals that can damage your DNA and lead to cancer. One out of every three cancer deaths in this country is from smoking. Continuing to smoke weakens the cancer-fighting systems of your body. Smoking also can interfere with your cancer treatment.
Cancer patients and survivors who continue to smoke are more likely to die from their original cancer, a secondary cancer, or other causes than are cancer patients and survivors who are former smokers or who have never smoked.

FERTILITY AND PREGNANCY
Smoking reduces a woman’s chance of getting pregnant and damages DNA in sperm. Damage to sperm could decrease fertility and lead to miscarriage or birth defects. Men who smoke are more likely to have erectile dysfunction, which can affect reproduction. Women who smoke during pregnancy have a higher risk for ectopic pregnancy, delivering their babies early, and stillbirth. Those who smoke during early pregnancy are more likely to have babies born with a cleft lip or palate. Babies whose mothers smoke during pregnancy are more likely to have low birth weight or to die from sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS). Tobacco smoke also damages the tissues of the unborn baby’s growing brain and lungs and could interfere with the growth of the placenta, the organ that feeds the baby in the womb. This could lead to miscarriage, premature delivery, or low birth weight.

Most people find a combination of resources works best. Many smokers do not quit on their first attempt. Many need several tries to successfully quit. But the benefits are well worth it. Keep trying.

PROTECTING YOUR KIDS ONLINE

TAKE CHARGE

Set some ground rules.
Establish basic guidelines like when your kids can go online, what sites they can visit, and how many texts they can send a month, so everyone is on the same page.

Research before you buy.
Did you know that handheld games can connect to the internet or that many laptops have built-in webcams? Understand what technology you’re bringing into your home.

Don’t just sit there—REPORT!
If your kids are dealing with cyberbullies or potential predators, report them to the website, cell phone service, law enforcement, or www.cybertipline.com.

MONITOR

Supervise Internet use.
If you can see what your kids are doing, they’re less likely to get in trouble.

Safeguards = Safe Kids.
Installing CIA-level monitoring software on your kids’ computers does not guarantee they’ll be safe online. Technology can’t replace your time and attention as a parent or guardian.

Don’t go overboard.
It’s smart to keep an eye on your kids’ social networking profiles, but it’s never cool when you post embarrassing messages or pictures to their page.

COMMUNICATE

Talk to your kids; they’re not as mysterious as you think.
Your kids might not tell you everything, but that doesn’t mean you shouldn’t ask. Get involved so you’re not the last to know.

Challenge them to a duel.
If you have kids who like to play video or computer games, ask if you can play, too. When you respect their interests, they’re more likely to respect your rules.

Don’t pull the plug.
Taking away your kids’ Internet access because they’ve done something wrong doesn’t solve the problem. Talk to them about protecting themselves and respecting others online.

Saving Your Money

"I'd like to save, but there's never any money left at the end of the month!"

Just about all of us have felt this way about saving money. Saving money simply means putting money aside. When we think about where we spend our money, many of us probably could find a few extra dollars here and there that could be put toward a future goal.

What are your goals?

Strong money goals say:
- What you want,
- When you want it,
- How much you need, and
- They are written down.

Research by the Consumer Federation of America suggests people are twice as likely to be successful savers if they have a specific money goal. Putting money aside may mean making changes to your current money habits and coming up with new habits. Here are some ideas to help you get started.

Pay Yourself First

What if you set money aside at the start of the month instead of waiting to see if there's any left at the end? If you wait until the end of the month to set money aside, it seems like other expenses always come up and then there's no money left.

If you save at the beginning of the month and an unexpected bill does pop up during the month, you can use the savings you set aside earlier. Plus, you save even more money by not having to use a credit card or take out a loan and pay extra in interest.

What are some other ways to pay yourself?

Make installment payments – An installment loan is where you make the same payment month after month, like a car loan. Once you make that last payment on your installment loan, celebrate! - and then keep making the monthly payment to yourself by putting that same amount of money into your savings.

Make it automatic – You can have money taken out of your paycheck or checking account each month and get it directly deposited into a savings account. Most banks and credit unions will let you automatically transfer money into a savings account for free.
Ideas to Jumpstart Your Savings

Break a habit – Do you eat out three times a week? How about cutting down to two times a week and putting the cost of the third meal into savings? If you cut out one $8 fast food meal each week for a whole year, you could save $416 by the end of the year!

Breaking a habit can be easier said than done. Try starting with a small habit that you don't think you would miss too much just to see how it goes. Even small changes really add up over time!

Find little ways to save – Instead of renting movies, check them out from the library for free. Grow a garden—it's fun and provides food for the family too. In the spring or fall, watch for sales on winter coats and boots and stock up for the next year. Shop resale stores and garage sales. Board games, local parks and walks in the neighborhood are fun and easy on the budget.

Save windfall income – If you get money from gifts, overtime, or tax returns, could it go into savings? If you were getting by okay before you got the extra money, odds are you won't even miss it if you set some aside. Or you could try the 80-10-10 Rule: use 80% for bills, put 10% in savings, and use 10% on whatever you'd like.

Keep an eye on your goal – Write or tape a picture of what you're saving for on your jar or piggy bank.

Take charge of your change – At the end of the day, empty your change into your piggy bank or a large jar. If you save 25 cents a day for an entire year, do you know you'll have almost $100 set aside?

Play the savings game – Pick one thing you buy and come up with ideas on how you could:
- Buy it cheaper
- Make it last longer
- Use it less

For example, pick a food you eat regularly. Have your family “taste test” with a cheaper brand to see if they notice much difference. If you like a more expensive brand, can you buy it a little less often?

“Save your one dollar bills all year round — maybe $2 a day or every other day. By the time Christmas comes, it will help a lot so you don’t feel so overwhelmed.”
(Tip shared by a Richland County Head Start Parent)

Set a Goal, Pick an Idea, Get Started!

Which savings idea would you be willing to try? Pick one or two tips, and try them out until they become a regular savings routine for you. It can take a little while to get into a new habit. Once you get started, it becomes much easier—and it feels good. You may have so much fun reaching your first goal, that you set up a second savings goal before you know it!

To $um It Up:
- What amount of savings in the bank would help you sleep better at night?
- Getting into the habit of putting money aside is more important than the amount you set aside.
- People are more likely to be successful at savings if they have a goal with a dollar amount and a date.
- Pick a goal that excites you the most and get started!

TIPS for parents of Preschoolers

Read early and read often. The early years are critical to developing a lifelong love of reading. It’s never too early to begin reading to your child! The tips below offer some fun ways you can help your child become a happy and confident reader. Try a new tip each week. See what works best for your child.

- Read together every day.
  Read to your child every day. Make this a warm and loving time when the two of you can cuddle close.

- Give everything a name.
  Build your child’s vocabulary by talking about interesting words and objects. For example, “Look at that airplane! Those are the wings of the plane. Why do you think they are called wings?”

- Say how much you enjoy reading.
  Tell your child how much you enjoy reading with him or her. Talk about “story time” as the favorite part of your day.

- Read with fun in your voice.
  Read to your child with humor and expression. Use different voices. Ham it up!

- Know when to stop.
  Put the book away for awhile if your child loses interest or is having trouble paying attention.

- Be interactive.
  Discuss what’s happening in the book, point out things on the page, and ask questions.

- Read it again and again.
  Go ahead and read your child’s favorite book for the 100th time!

- Talk about writing, too.
  Mention to your child how we read from left to right and how words are separated by spaces.

- Point out print everywhere.
  Talk about the written words you see in the world around you. Ask your child to find a new word on each outing.

- Get your child evaluated.
  Please be sure to see your child’s pediatrician or teacher as soon as possible if you have concerns about your child’s language development, hearing, or sight.
